The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the article page for 'The Oligarchic Politic of Chinese Indonesians in Lampung'. The browser's address bar shows the URL 'iratde.com/index.php/jtde/article/view/584'. The website's navigation menu includes 'home', 'about', 'news', 'our online journal', 'resources', 'join the JTDE', and 'contact'. The article title is prominently displayed, followed by the authors: 'Arsyad Sobby Kesuma, Aris Risdiana, Reza Bakhtiar Ramadhan, Imam Nawawi'. A PDF icon is visible next to the authors' names. The abstract section begins with the text: 'The oligarchic politic in Lampung Province is controlled by Chinese Indonesians. The oligarch group's business interests are combined with political power at the government level. So that the dominance of Chinese Indonesians in many sectors of life is very apparent, ranging from access to quality education, ownership of luxury facilities, land ownership, privatization of tourist destination objects, to local government policies related to the Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) sector. This literature study used a qualitative approach with a political sociology approach. This study found that political practices in Lampung province were controlled by Chinese Indonesian oligarchist groups. International class higher education institutions can only be accessed by Chinese Indonesians. Chinese Indonesians politicians have assets in the form of luxurious living facilities, which keep social inequalities from non-Chinese Indonesians. These Chinese Indonesians control vacant land and productive land which are far greater than the natives. Furthermore, the'.
