Raden Intan International Conference on Muslim Societies and Social Sciences (RIICMUSSS)

RIICMUSSS wants to put the study of Islam and Muslim societies within the perspectives of social sciences. By this way, Islam and Muslim societies are approached as an object of studies through an analytical lens of social theories originating from, for examples, sociology, history, political sciences, media and communication, education, and anthropology. RIICMUSSS, thus, does not only study how theological beliefs of Islam have shaped the way Muslims live their lives; but (more importantly) also on how economic growth, political changes, social transformations, and technological development that happened in Muslim societies and their surroundings have influenced the ways Muslim people live and express their religious beliefs in their everyday lives.
