ABSTRACT

Based on the preliminary research in SMP Muhammadiyah 1 Kotaagung, the researcher found that the students' reading comprehension was low and students' lack of comprehending the text. Students' reading comprehension score was 62.2%, they got score under 68. To solve this problem, the researcher used two stay two stray technique. Two stay two stray technique is kind of technique that gives chance to each student in group to share the result and information with other student in group. The objective of this research was to know whether there is two stay two stray technique effective on students' reading comprehension in descriptive text at the first semester of the eighth grade of SMP Muhammadiyah 1 Kotaagung in the academic year of 2023/2024.

This research used quasi experimental design. The population of this research the eighth-grade students of SMP Muhammadiyah 1 Kotaagung. The sample was taken from two classes VIII A as control class and VIII B as experimental class. The instrument was used for pre-test and post-test. The result of the data was normal distribution and the variance of the data was homogenous. Independent sample t-test was used to analyze the data.

From the analysis, it was obtained that  $\text{Sig} = 0.000$  and  $\alpha = 0.05$ . This result was consulted to the score of the value significant generated  $\text{Sig. (P.value)} < \alpha = 0.05$ . Therefore,  $H_0$  is rejected and  $H_a$  is accepted. In other words, it can be concluded that there is effective of using two stay two stray technique on students' reading comprehension in descriptive text at the first semester of the eighth grade of SMP Muhammadiyah 1 Kotaagung in the academic year of 2023/2024.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A. Title Confirmation

The research entitled “The Effectiveness of Two Stay Two Stray Technique on Students' Reading Comprehension in Descriptive Text at The First Semester of The Eighth Grade of SMP Muhammadiyah 1 Kotaagung in the Academic Year of 2023/2024” to avoid misunderstanding the researcher, the researcher would explain the title of this research, namely:

In research word ‘Effectiveness’ is the output of a specific review or analysis that measures the achievement of certain educational goals or the extent to which a higher education institution is expected to achieve certain requirements.<sup>1</sup> Effectiveness is a measure that states the extent to which targets (quantity, quality, and time) have been achieved. The effectiveness in this research is the effectivity of using two stay two stray technique on students' reading comprehension.

Two Stay Two Stray technique is a technique that provides opportunities for students to convey ideas, arguments and information to other groups.<sup>2</sup> This technique is believed to be able to provide opportunities for students' to be involved in discussions. It also encourages critical thinking and is willing to take responsibility for their own learning by increasing reading comprehension. The two stay two stray technique in this research was used in the eighth grade in students' reading comprehension in descriptive text.

Reading comprehension is the ability to improve students to extract useful knowledge from texts.<sup>3</sup> Accuracy in understanding the text must be supported by main ideas, expressions/idioms/phrases in context, inferences, grammatical features, details, excluding unwritten facts, supporting ideas, vocabulary in context. The important thing is the students are able to understand the text and understand the meaning of the text and understand the text that is reassessed or the process of constructing the meaning of the text.

Descriptive text is one type of reading text that is used to describe something, animal, or person.<sup>4</sup> Descriptive text refers to a text that focuses on describing particular things, items or individuals and it specifies some of their characteristics. Students' in descriptive text could be their ability to understand detailed information from descriptive text across eight reading comprehension criteria.

SMP Muhammadiyah 1 Kotaagung located on Jl. Samudra no.33 - Kuripan, Kotaagung, Tanggamus Regency. This school has been accredited A.

Based on the explanation, the title of this research is The Effectiveness of Two Stay Two Stray Technique on Students' Reading Comprehension in Descriptive Text at The First Semester of The Eighth Grade of SMP Muhammadiyah 1 Kotaagung in the Academic Year of 2023/2024.

B. Background of the Problem

There are four skills in language teaching and learning: speaking, writing, listening, and reading taught in the English language learning process. Moreover, reading is regarded as the most important skill among all. Reading has become one of the four language skills in English that must be learned because it is a source of knowledge that students can use as input in the learning process. Reading is an essential aspect of learning English because it allows people to develop their vocabulary as well as the writing skills. It is supported by Harmer statement that reading is effective for language development. It means that by reading, students can develop vocabulary and learn a lot about other languages. However, student occasionally struggle to read and comprehend English text.<sup>5</sup> Through reading, it allows students to comprehend and understand what they have learned, so reading plays an important role in students' academic achievement. It is supported by Nunan's statement that reading is the most important.<sup>6</sup> Reading can be a source of reading comprehension and it can make a significant contribution to second English proficiency. Both oral and written performance are covered by the competency.

Reading is the activity of obtaining information from what has been read. Therefore, reading is very important for students because through reading, we can build critical thinking about what is happening in our environment. Basically, the main purpose of reading activities is to gather ideas and information. To achieve this goal, students' need to have a better understanding of the text they are reading. Grellet stated reading comprehension is understanding written text, meaning extract the necessary information as efficiently as possible.<sup>7</sup> Reading comprehension consists of knowing information from written texts and understanding texts.

Based on the statement above, it can be concluded that reading is a very important skill that students must master. In fact, many students' have low abilities in reading comprehension. Difficulties in reading comprehension occur for various reasons: vocabulary, working memory, lack of extensive reading and type of text.<sup>8</sup> The process of comprehending the text is not easy for students. Students' must master vocabulary, be able to remember information from written texts, and have motivation in reading texts.

Based on the preliminary research in SMP Muhammadiyah 1 Kotaagung. The researcher was found that the students' reading comprehension was low and many students did not pass minimum mastery criteria. It meant that students had problem in learning English especially reading. The researcher has conducted an interview with English teachers there, Miss Erni Wanti S.Pd. Based on interviewed the English teacher, she stated that students had several difficulties in reading. First, students' lack of comprehending the text. Second, students' reading comprehension was low. Third, students were not interested in learning the reading comprehension process, especially in descriptive text. This can be seen from the students from English score in reading test. The score can be seen in the table:

average score of speaking skills in the eighth class of SMP Muhammadiyah 1 Kotaagung is 68, with many students' below 68. It is revenues numerous students quiet had troubles in their reading comprehension. So, the researcher tries to solve the problem of reading. In this case the researcher tried to use two stay two stray technique in teaching reading. In two stay two stray technique has advantage that giving an opportunity to the students to build their creativity and to communicate with their friends in group.

Two stay two stray technique was used in an experimental class. The researcher will divide some groups and each group consist of four students. Students' work together to solve a problem gives by the teacher. Two students from each group then join other group to present their worksheets and share them with other students'. Two students' then return to the main group and explain their results to the other groups.

There were some previous researches done by researchers relate to applying Two Stay Two Stray Technique. The first research was conducted by Rani Rohimah, which is entitled The Influence of Using Two-Stay Two-Stray Towards Students' Speaking Ability at the First Semester of the Eleventh Grade of Ma Al-Hikmah Bandar Lampung in the Academic Year of 2017/2018. This research methodology was quasi experimental research. The object of the research is two classes in the eleventh grade of MA Al-Hikmah Bandar Lampung chosen purposely using purposive sampling from 103 of population. The first class is XI IPA as the experimental group and the second class is XI IAI as the control group. The data collected from the score of pre-test and post-test after the treatment. In collecting the data test was used in this research. The Instrument of this research was an oral test. After giving the post-test, the researcher analyzed the data by using SPSS to compute independent sample t-test.<sup>9</sup>

The second is a research that was conducted by Rasdiana which is entitled “Applying Two Stay Two Stray (TSTS) Technique By Using Picture Series To Improve Students’ Speaking Skill at the Second Grade in MAN 2 ParePare”, the aim of this research was positively to find out whether applying two stay two stray researcher by using picture series to improve students’ speaking skill at the second grade in MAN 2 Parepare. The results of this research, this benefit for the teacher and students. The subject of this research is XII MIA 1 class which is consisted of 27 students. The result in this research was indicated that there was improvement of the students’ speaking skill.<sup>10</sup>

In the two previous researches above, there are similarities in the technique used in their research, namely the two stay two stray technique. differences in previous research on speaking ability and using picture series. The researcher will give the title in this research “The Effectiveness of Two Stay Two Stray Technique on Students’ Reading Comprehension in Descriptive Text at the First Semester of the Eighth Grade of SMP Muhammadiyah 1 Kotaagung in the Academic Year of 2023/2024”.

C. Identification and Limitation of the Problem

Based on the background of the problem, there are some problems:

1. The students' lack of comprehending the text
2. The students' reading comprehension was low
3. The students were not interested in learning the reading comprehension process, especially in descriptive text

The findings of this study are design to provide information about the use of two stay two stray technique on students' reading comprehension in order to improve reading comprehension abilities. Both for readers and for the next researchers.

2. Practically

a. For the English Teachers

This technique makes it easy for teacher to teach reading, and it is expected to make a useful contribution to teaching reading and provide the other way for teacher to develop students' reading skill.

b. For the Students

To motivate students' in the learning process, particularly in reading instruction, will be able to create more enjoyable and meaningful learning.

c. For the Next Researchers

This research can be used as a reference for conducting other research regarding two stay two stray technique on student understanding. By reading this research, it is hoped that next researchers will be able to conduct more in-depth research on the problems that arise in learning English, especially in reading.

G. Relevant Researches

There have been three relevance research using the same technique for teaching reading. The first research conducted by August Lewaherilla studied about Improving students' reading comprehension through Two Stay Two Stray technique to the students of class eighth of SMP YPPK Biak in the academic year 2010/2011. This study used classroom action research. Research has shown that the Two Stay Two Stray technique can improve students' reading comprehension in narative text. The development can also be seen in her post-test results. Mean scores increased to 64, 62 on posttest 1 and 72,788 on posttest 2. Students' convert more actively committed in the learning course. They had the courage to express their opinions in English. The class was lively and exciting. Encourage students to act responsibly and positively.<sup>11</sup>

The second researcher by Suci Ramadhani Sihotang, which is entitled The Effect of Two Stay Two Stray on The Students' Achievement in Reading Comprehension of the eighth grade SMP Rahmat Islamiyah Medan in the academic year of 2016/2017. This research used experimental research design. The finding shows that  $t_{\text{observe}} > t_{\text{table}}$  (5.94) is greater than  $t_{\text{table}}$  (1.69) with the level of significance 0.05 and  $df=70$ . It shows that the hypothesis alternative ( $H_a$ ) was accepted. the percentage of thus significant effect of applying Two Stay Two stray on the students' achievement in reading comprehension was 50.95%, it meant there was significant effect of using Two Stay Two Stray on the students' achievement in reading comprehension in recount text.<sup>12</sup>

The third researcher by Nurma, Rumiri, and Syofia which is entitled "The Effect of Two Stay Two Stray technique on reading comprehension of the second years student of SMAN 34 Pekanbaru". The purpose of the research was to know whether there is a significant effect of using Two Stay Two Stray technique toward reading comprehension in recount text of second year students' at SMAN 34 Pekanbaru. The research design was quasi experimental research. The result of data analysis showed that the mean score of pre-test for control class was 58,12 and the post –test was 62,25. While the result of pre-test for experimental group was 62,62 and the post test was 71,38. With the t-Test score was 8,76, it can be concluded that there was a significant effect of using Two Stay Two Stray strategy on reading comprehension of the second year students' of SMAN 34 Pekanbaru.<sup>13</sup>

All relevance studies show that the two stay two stray technique improves students' reading comprehension. Although there are many opportunities to improve students' reading comprehension by starting learning using the two stay two stray technique, there are many research studies related to learning the two stay two stray technique for effecting to see if there is a significant difference in students' reading comprehension after using the two stay two stray technique.

In one relevance research, the study concluded that two stay two stray technique can improve reading comprehension in young students. In addition, there are several differences between the previous study and this study. In a previous study, the researcher used classroom action research, but in this research use a quasi-experimental study and a design of experiments method to conduct the study, so the researcher was used the differences from this study. However, this study used a quasi-experimental design to determine the effectiveness of Two Stay Two Stray on reading comprehension.

CHAPTER II

FRAME OF THEORY AND HYPOTHESIS

A. Frame of Theory

1. Reading

a. Definition of Reading

Reading is one of the skills that English learners need to master. Several experts give their opinion on reading the definition. When reading the text, the reader can know and understand what the writer is talking about. Jennifer explained that reading is about thinking, understanding and realizing the meaning of text.<sup>1</sup> This means that reading is the process by which the reader receives the message from the article. Richard and Schmidt note reading as a process of discovering a text in written form to understand its contents.<sup>2</sup> This means that when someone does not understand the meaning of the passage, they will not read even if they pronounce the words correctly. Reading means understanding the meaning of the passage being read, not just reading the words.

In line with the idea above, Nunan stated that reading is a process of creating meaning by merging idea from the text with reader prior knowledge.<sup>3</sup> It can be said that reading is not a simple activity. The reading process begins when the reader looks at a text and then cultivates it in the brain, including the basics to derive meaning from that text. The readers prior knowledge plays a large role in helping readers familiar with the text make sense of it.

Moreover, Harris and Graham stated reading is a purposeful activity.<sup>4</sup> It means that reading is the process of comprehending text. Readers can understand the information by interpreting the source information from the text. Lems et.al, states that reading is an interactive process that takes place between the text and readers processing strategies and background knowledge.<sup>5</sup> This means that reading is an interactive process where the reader's processing strategy and their own background knowledge play an important role when reading the text. The reader handling policy can determine how the read takes place. The basic knowledge of the reader also plays an important role in the reading process. By combining information from a text with their background knowledge and also using appropriate strategies, it can help readers build meaning more easily.

From the above explanation, the researcher concludes that reading is a cognitive activity when the reader and the writer have a dialogue through the text. In reading, the reader reflects and understands the information of the text by analyzing, coordinating, and interpreting different sources of information to make sense of the text. The reading process also needs information about the text and the readers background knowledge to build meaning. Both can help us by reading. From there, we can easily understand the text. We must read as much as possible. Because reading books can help us to know more information and increase knowledge.

b. The Type of Reading

Patel Stated that reading is divided into several types, namely as follows:<sup>6</sup>

1) Intensive reading

Extensive reading is reading text or reading passages. In this reading, learners read the text to gain knowledge or analysis. The goal of this reading is to read a shorter text. This reading is done to obtain specific information. Learners who read books to cultivate knowledge are in-depth reading. Intensive reading will provide the basis for explaining structural difficulties and deepening knowledge of vocabulary and idiomatic expressions. It will also provide materials to develop better language proficiency, both spoken and written.

2) Extensive Reading

Materials intended for extensive reading will chose at a lower difficulty level than materials intended for intensive reading. The goal of extensive reading will train students to read directly and fluently in the target language comfortably without the help of a teacher.

3) Aloud Reading

Reading aloud also plays an important role in teaching English. Teachers should know that learning to read aloud should be done at the elementary level because it is the basis for pronouncing words.

4) Silent Reading

Silent reading is a very important skill in teaching English. This reading should be used to increase the learner's reading ability. Silent reading is done to gain a lot of information. The teacher should ask them to read silently when they can read without any difficulty.

Based on the explanation, there are four types of reading such as Intensive Reading, Extensive Reading, Aloud Reading, and Silent Reading. Two stay two stay technique involves small group activities to read, analyze, understand, discuss, and synthesize their own understanding of the text so that researcher will use intensive reading, because they are both still wandering, and connect what students understand from the text by opening a dictionary or ask a group question.

c. Concept of Reading Comprehension

Reading comprehension is an active process of constructing and deriving meaning from related texts. This includes knowledge of words (vocabulary) as well as thinking and reasoning. Understanding is therefore an active process rather than a passive one.<sup>7</sup> This means that comprehension is the active process of deriving the meaning of sentences and knowledge from vocabulary.

Brown stated reading comprehension is primarily about developing appropriate and effective comprehension strategies.<sup>8</sup> This means comprehension is the ability to understand and retain certain information. From these descriptions, reading comprehension is the reader's ability to extract information and messages from ability to address questions related to The Main Idea,

Expressions/idioms/phrases in context, Inference, Grammar features, Details, Excluding facts not written, Supporting Ideas, Vocabulary in context. Reading comprehension has several aspects:

1) The Main Idea

The main idea is basically the most important thought about the topic. Alexander et al, the main idea is what the author wants you to know and understand about the topic.<sup>9</sup> This means that the main idea refers to crucial information that complicate on the overall idea of a paragraph or section of text. In other words, the main idea is actually the summary of the paragraph.

2) Expressions/idioms/phrases in context

Expressions/idiom/phrase in context is a common word or phrase that has a culturally understood meaning different from that imply by the compound name. In other words, a passage may contain words with multiple meanings or specific meanings, and the reader should identify these meanings.

3) Inference (Implicit Detail)

Hatch stated a conclusion question asks for information that is implied in the sentence but not directly stated.<sup>10</sup> In other words, the conclusion question infers something that is not directly stated in the text.

4) Grammar features (reference)

Dummett stated a reference is a relationship that exists between an expression and what the speaker says with the expression.<sup>11</sup> This means that a reference is a relationship between objects that serves as a means of connecting or linking one object to another.

5) Details (scan specific specified details)

In discussions of reading, this skill is often call scanning. We read books because we want to understand specific details, as oppose to reading to get the gist.<sup>12</sup> This means that the reader must read with comprehension in order to understand the main point of the text.

6) Excluding facts not written

Provide information in text, except for facts, not written questions not directly explained.

7) Supporting Ideas

A supporting idea supports the author's main idea by clarifying its meaning or by providing supporting evidence.<sup>13</sup> This means that the supporting idea clarifies the main idea of the subject sentence or written sentence.

8) Vocabulary in context

“Vocabulary in context” questions ask about the meaning of words or phrases used in a sentence.<sup>14</sup> This means that a lexical question in context asks the reader to determine the lexical meaning.

Based on the description, reading comprehension can be summarize as the process by which the reader tries to understand the content of the text. Reading, on the other hand, is the extraction of information from texts. The reader should consider to The Main Idea, Expressions/idioms/phrases in context, Inference (implicit details), Grammar features (references), Details (search for specifically stated details), Excluding facts not written, Supporting Ideas, Vocabulary in context. Readers describe these components in their own language. Reading comprehension is the ability to understand the purpose and meaning of a text and understand what the reader is reading.

d. Micro and Macro Skills of Reading Comprehension

Brown explains that there are two types of skills that a reader must possess.<sup>15</sup> Those are micro skills and macro skills.

1) Micro skills of reading

Here is some micro of reading skills:

- a) Distinguish between distinctive charts and spelling patterns of English.
- b) Store language fragments of suitable length in short-term memory.
- c) Process articles at an efficient pace to meet the target.
- d) Recognize the core of words and explain patterns of word order and meaning.
- e) Recognize types of grammatical words (nouns, verbs, etc.), systems (e.g. tenses, unions and plurals), patterns, rules, and ellipses.
- f) Realize that a particular meaning can be express in different grammatical forms.
- g) Identify the connection in writing and their rules in expressing the relationship between the clauses. Discriminating among the distinctive graphemes and orthographic pattern of English.

2) Macro skills of reading

Here is some macro of reading skills:

- a) Recognize the rhetorical forms of written speech and their meanings for interpretation.
- b) Identify the communicative function of written text in terms of form and purpose.
- c) Inferring context is not clear by basic knowledge.
- d) Starting from describing events, opinions, inferring relationships, relationships between events, inferring causes and effects, discovering relationships such as main ideas, supporting ideas support, new information, generalization, illustration.
- e) Distinguish literal from implicit meaning.
- f) Detect cultural-specific references and interpret them in the context of appropriate cultural patterns.
- g) Develop and use a range of reading strategies, such as skimming and skimming, detecting speech cues, guessing the meaning of words in context, and activating patterns to interpret text. Recognizing the rhetorical forms of written discourse and their significance for interpretation.

From the statements above, it can be concluded that it is better to teach reading by teaching both micro skill and macro skill to improve the students reading comprehension. Micro skill is necessary to be taught for building a base for students in reading meanwhile macro skill is taught for mastering reading.

e. Levels of Reading Comprehension

There are different levels of reading comprehension. Barnes assumed reading comprehension is classified into literal comprehension, interpretive comprehension, critical reading, and creative reading.<sup>16</sup>

1) Literal Comprehension

Literal Comprehension is the lowest level of understanding. Literal comprehension refers to the ability to comprehend and recall information explicitly state in a text. The text can be written or spoken. Literal comprehension is capturing the information directly contain in the choices. It's the most important, but it still plays an important role in Comprehension. In her opinion, reading is important for literal comprehension and a prerequisite for higher comprehension. Specific reading skills at the level of literal comprehension include recognizing specific information and details that are not present at all, categorizing events when given explicit signals, and the main idea and content of the text read. and so on.

a) Identifying specific information

This reading style requires the reader's attention to be direct only to one or more specific information or details require in the form of text. The rest of the text may become unreadable. This information includes everything from names, dates, scientific terms, places, and more. Looking for it motivates one to read. When searching for details, readers should look for signals around the information they want, or within the information itself.

b) Find the main idea

The main idea is the most important information the author wants to convey about the concept of the paragraph. The main idea is the central idea upon which the entire paragraph revolves. Usually it is express in a topic sentence. Identify a subject. Facts about this topic:

(1) They often state the main idea of the paragraph.

(2) Often the first sentence of a paragraph. sometimes on end or middle.

(3) Not all sentences have a theme sentence

(4) The main ideas are back up by details and well-written texts unit volume.

(5) If the main idea is not state directly, readers may state it directly know and determine the topic to which all the points mention belong. Details are connected.

(6) The main idea of the whole selection can be determined as follows. Considering the main ideas of each paragraph, decide which topic it belong to.

2) Interpretive Comprehension

The second level is interpretive comprehension. At this level, students go beyond what is said and read for deeper meaning. You must be able to read critically and carefully analyze what you read. Students should be able to understand the relationships between ideas, such as how they fit together, as well as the imply meaning of those ideas. He goes on to agree with Rubin that reading skills at this level require readers to:

- a) Identify the meaning of words from context
- b) Find the main idea
- c) Read between the lines or draw conclusions
- d) Draw conclusions
- e) Generalize
- f) Recognize cause and effect inferences
- g) Recognize similarities

3) Critical Reading

Critical reading involves both literal understanding and interpretation, but critical reading also entails the skill of these two levels of understanding. He appreciates what he reads.

4) Creative Reading

Creative reading is when the reader applies ideas to new situations and combines the author's ideas with those of others to create new ideas. Through creative reading, readers create new things such as: A new way of seeing something from an idea, a solution to a problem, an idea derived from a text.

2. Descriptive Text

a. Definition of Descriptive Text

There are some kinds of text that should be comprehended by students in the junior high schools. They are narrative, report, recount, descriptive, and procedure. In this research, the researcher will use descriptive text. Tompkins and Stanley defined descriptive text as painting pictures with words. By reading a descriptive text, readers feel that they see the description just like they see pictures. Friedman assumed descriptive details mean to grab the reader's attention. Thus, Temple et al stated, description is discourse that helps us visualize. It focuses upon the appearance or the nature of an object.

In addition, Wardiman et.al stated descriptive text is a text that describes the features of someone, something, or a certain place.<sup>17</sup> This description can be shown in the form of the sound, taste, and smell of things or objects. The characteristic of something or object to be describe usually deals with the physical appearance of the object to be describe. Furthermore, according to Anderson & Anderson in Dolar Yuwono stated that descriptive text is different from information reports because they describe a specific subject rather than general group.<sup>18</sup> The purpose of this text is to describe a particular person, place or thing being discuss in detail or describes parts, qualities, or characteristics.

Based on the explanation, the researcher concludes that descriptive text is the text that describes a particular thing that is alive or not, such as a person, place, animal, form, or object.

b. Generic Structure of Descriptive Text

Emilia said that descriptive text containing two organization, identification (name, location, and specific information about the place) and description (quality characteristics of the place being described).<sup>19</sup> This means that descriptive text has two organizations, identifier and description. First,

<sup>17</sup> Wardiman. (2008). English in Focus 2: For Grade X Senior High School. Jakarta: Pusat Perbukuan Department Pendidikan Nasional. p. 16

<sup>18</sup> Yuwono, D. (2015). Writing I: From Practice to Theory: Getting Smart and Creative to Write. Yogyakarta: Pusat Felicha. p. 66

we need to define the object we want to describe, then describe the properties and characteristics of the object. Thus, Emilia asserts that the descriptive text has two general structural parts. They are:

1) Identification

Identification paragraph which identifies phenomenon to be describes.

2) Description

Description is series of paragraph about the subject which describes parts, qualities, characteristics.<sup>20</sup>

Base on explanation, the researcher concludes that descriptive text has two general structures, namely identification to introduce objects and description to describe characteristics, parts and properties of objects. By knowing the general structure, students can easily derive information when reading descriptive text.

c. Language Features

Language features also know with grammatical features. It is the important part in descriptive text and language feature as a characteristic of descriptive text. According to Sudarwati and Grace, there are seven language features of descriptive text, they are:

1) The use of “to be” and “to have”

Example: The hotel has 235 bedrooms.

The hotel rate is too expensive

2) The use of relating verbs

Example: The temple consists of five terraces.

The museum houses hundreds of greek statues.

3) The use of opinion and fact adjective

Example: The temples is magnificent.
(Opinion)

<sup>20</sup> Ibid

The temple has a rectangular shape.
(Fact)

- 4) The use of degrees of comparison

Example: Bogor has the same weather as Ungaran.

The weather in Jakarta is hotter than that in Bandung.

- 5) The use of participle phrases

Example: Situated between East London and West London, the river flows into the sea.

The house standing at the foot of the hill belongs to the royal family.

- 6) The use of compound adjectives

Example: The five-bedroom bungalow has been rented since last year.

Passengers are not allowed to smoke in the non-smoking compartment.

- 7) The use of adverbial phrases of time and place

Example: The city has changed a lot since the 17th century. (Adverbial phrases of time).

London is situated in the southeastern England. (Adverbial phrases of place).<sup>21</sup>

d. Example of Descriptive Text

Identification	PINK BEACH Pink Beach or Pantai Merah Muda is one of the beaches in Komodo island, East Nusa Tenggara. The beach is called Pink Beach because the sand beach is pink. The pink color of its beach is a mixture of white sand beach colors mixed with crushed coral, shells, calcium carbonate from marine invertebrates that are very small, and also Foraminifera, microscopic amoeba that has a red body shell.
Description	At Pink Beach, there are so many marine organisms. No fewer than 1,000 species of fish, 260 species of coral, and 70 species of sponge can be found here. Having so much marine life, this place is a proper spot for snorkeling and diving for sea sports lovers.

e. Students' Ability in Reading Comprehension in Descriptive Text

Reading comprehension is very necessary, not only to understand documents, but also to improve awareness, educational success, and work. In this case, students should be good in reading comprehension ability because from understanding texts students can increase their knowledge, success in education, and get a job.

Klingner and Boardman stated comprehension of reading is the method of creating meaning to integrate complex processes, include word reading, word processing, their awareness and fluency in reading.<sup>22</sup> This means that reading comprehension is crucial for students in their life because students could be get information and increase their knowledge from reading comprehension.

Descriptive text is text that describes the appearance of a person, place, animal, or object. The general structure of descriptive text is identification and description. In comprehending this type of text, students will be able to understand the literal meaning, understand the inference, understand the structure of the text and also be able to describe animals, objects and people. In literal comprehension, students get specific information or answers to questions from the text they are reading. While deductive comprehension allows students to discover main ideas or identify vocabulary in context. In other words, deductive comprehension allows students to make their own inferences based on the text. In addition, students also need to identify the organization of the text.

Base on the explanation, researcher claims the reading comprehension of students in descriptive text could be their ability to understand detail information from descriptive text across eight reading comprehension criteria.

3. Cooperative Learning

Cooperative learning implies working together to achieve a common goal. In cooperative activities, students individually seek results that benefit all members of their group. Rusman stated Cooperative learning is a learning model that involves student participation in small groups to interact with each other.<sup>23</sup> It means that in a cooperative learning system, students learn to work together with other members to interact with each other. In this learning model, students have two responsibilities, namely they learn for themselves and help all group members to learn.

Slavin stated cooperative learning refers on a variety of teaching methods in which students work in small groups to help each other with each other in studying subject matter.<sup>24</sup> It means that in the cooperative learning model it is hoped that each students will be able to help each member of their group and discuss and argue with each other to hone their knowledge so that there are no gaps in the knowledge and understanding of each students. Lie stated

Cooperative learning models have many types that differ in task structure and implementation such as Student Team Achievement Division (STAD), Teams-Games-Tournament (TGT), Two Stay Two Stray (TSTS), Jigsaw, Team Accelerated Instruction (TAI), Cooperated integrated reading and composition (CIRC). Two Stay Two Stray (TSTS) will use in this research. Two Stay Two Stray which was developed by Spencer in 1992. This technique can be used in all subjects and for all age levels of students. The Two Stay Two Guests technique gives groups the opportunity to share information with other groups.

4. Two Stay Two Stray Technique

a. Definition Two Stay Two Stray Technique

In reading skill there are many techniques to develop these skills. One of them is two stay two stray technique. Lie stated Two Stay Two Stray technique is kind of technique that gives chance to each student in group to share the result and information with other student in group.<sup>25</sup> It means that Two Stay Two Stray technique gives students experience in gathering information and reporting back to their teammates. It is also an interactive process which can be used to build knowledge or summarize learning through sharing.

Two Stay Two Stray technique is a group learning system with the aim that students can work together, be responsible, help each other solve problems, encourage each other to socialize well.<sup>26</sup> It means the two stay two stray technique helps students learn together and help each other so that students can solve problems more easily. Two Stay Two Stray technique is where learning begins with group division, each group consists of a guest and a host, from each group two members visit another group to ask questions about the material and the host from another group explains the material to the visiting group members.<sup>27</sup> It means the Two Stay Two Stray technique makes all members contribute in every aspect so that all members can understand more easily and well, besides that it can teach students to work together and socialize with each other.

Two Stay Two Stray techniques are commonly used for all subjects and student level. This technique enables the students to share information to the other groups.<sup>28</sup> It means that Two Stay Two Stray technique is able to use as a technique in reading and any grade of students. It also gives students experience in gathering information and reporting back to their teammates, this Two Stay Two Stray technique is expected to be an alternative technique which can be uses for teaching reading.

Based on theory above, Two Stay Two Stray is a kind of technique that gives chance to each student in group to summarize learning materials through sharing the result of discussion and other information with other groups.

b. The Procedure of Two Stay Two Stray Technique
According to Lie, Two Stay Two Stray consists of some steps as follow:

- 1) Students work together in groups of four as usual,
- 2) After finishing, two people from each visit the second other groups,
- 3) Two people who live in the group are in charge of sharing the results their work and information to their guests,
- 4) Guests excuse themselves and return to their own groups and report their findings from other groups,
- 5) Groups match and discuss the results of their work.<sup>29</sup>

Meanwhile, according to Kagan in Huda, Two Stay Two Stray consist of some steps as follow:

- 1) Teacher divides the student in some groups which consist of four students in each group.
- 2) Teacher gives the assignment for each group to discuss it.
- 3) Students cooperate in groups of four as usual.
- 4) After the discussion is done, two members of each groups leave the group to visit the other group.
- 5) The other two members who stay in the group have a tasked to share the information and the result from the discussion to their guests.
- 6) The guests excused to return to their home group and report what they find in the other group.
- 7) Then each group compare and discuss the results of their work.
- 8) Each group presents their result of discussion.<sup>30</sup>

It can be inferred that the students have to form a group consisted of four members for each group. Then, they do the task from the teacher. After doing the task, two of the students move to another group. Two students who stayed in the group have to share or discuss their result to the guess. After discussing, two students who move back to their group to compare their result with the other group result.

Therefore, in accordance with this procedure, the researcher will prepare steps for teaching reading to make it suitable for application to eighth grade junior high school students. It is the procedure for using the two stay two stray technique in teaching reading as follows:

<sup>30</sup> Miftahul Huda. (2015). Model-model Pengajaran dan Pembelajaran. Yogyakarta: Pustaka Pelajar. p.207

- 1) Pre reading activity
  - a) The teacher greets her students.
  - b) The attendance list of students is checked by the teacher.
  - c) Students answer
- 2) Whilst reading activity
  - a) The teacher forms groups, each group contains 4-5 students determined randomly in a fair manner.
  - b) Students answer questions related to the material that students will study. For example. Teacher: "Okay students, have you ever heard of a descriptive text before?"
  - c) The teacher provides examples of descriptive text after students answer questions.
  - d) The teacher explains the general structure and linguistic characteristics of descriptive text. Text with the title "The elephant".
  - e) Then the teacher gives 1 sheet of paper containing descriptive text, students are asked to read the text first with their group.
  - f) The teacher asks each group to discuss the material and analyze the general structure, linguistic material related to descriptive text.
  - g) The teacher goes around the group to guide groups that are having difficulties and asks students to ask questions if they do not understand the material.
  - h) After discussing in 1 group, the teacher asked 2 students from each group to come to another group to discuss the results of another group's discussion, 2 other students remained in the group to receive students who visited their group.

- i) After completing the visit, 2 students returned to their respective groups to report what they got from other groups
  - j) The teacher asks each group to come forward to present the results of the discussions that have been discussed.
- 3) Post reading activity
- a) Observing and assessing students who are presenting in front of the class
  - b) Teachers and students discuss about their mistakes and provide further explanations about students answers such as how to find the main idea (topic), expressions/phrases in context, inferences, grammatical characteristics, details, excluding unwritten facts, supporting ideas and vocabulary.
  - c) Ask students to answer reading questions related to descriptive text.
  - d) Collect student answer sheets.

However, this activity helps students develop not only their knowledge but also their communicative skills and self-confidence. Based on the statement above, two stay two stray implement in group discussions, there is a reasonable possibility that students will increase their communication skills. In a group, while sharing opinions and exchanging opinions with others, they will automatically improve their communication skills.

c. The Advantages and Disadvantages of Two Stay Two Stray Technique

According to Anita Lie, the advantages and disadvantages of Two Stay Two Stray technique is as follow:

- 1) Advantages of Two Stay Two Stray Technique
There are some advantages of using Two-Stay Two-Stray technique:

- a) Groups easily split into pairs.
- b) More ideas emerge,
- c) More tasks to do and easy teacher monitor,
- d) More activity oriented,
- e) Can be applied in all classes.<sup>31</sup>

In other word, using two stay two stray technique have many advantages and really help to the students to work together in group. This learning model is expected to motivate students to learn reading ability because they work with their friends. Moreover, the students are expected to be creative and share ideas with their friends.

2) Disadvantages of Two Stay Two Stray technique

- a) Requires more time,
- b) Needs better socialization,
- c) An even number complicates the voting process,
- d) Lack of opportunity for individual and easy contributions involve yourself from involvement.<sup>32</sup>

In other words, this technique needs more time than the other techniques. Before doing the two stay two stray technique, the teacher explains the mechanism of the two stay two stray technique to the students so that the students after that the teacher invites the students to ask questions if they still do not understand, then the teacher asks the students to form groups of four people, the teacher also asks one student to be the leader of the group In order to monitor their friends who do not contribute to their group, students who do not contribute to the group will be punished according to the agreement later.

5. Reading Aloud Technique

d. Definition Reading Aloud Technique

Reading aloud technique is a useful activity to practice accurate decoding and it is a useful activity in its own right people gain pleasure from listening to stories and talks and from reading stories to others.<sup>33</sup> This means that reading aloud is a beneficial activity for both the reader and the listener listening to the text, and can improve comprehension while reading.

Richards and Schmidt stated Reading aloud technique is saying a written text aloud.<sup>34</sup> It means that the technique of reading aloud involves reading a text out loud and the people around us being able to hear what we are reading. In reading instruction, this is often done to establish phonic-visual correspondence or to learn to differentiate sensory groups in a text.

Based on the above theories, the researcher concluded that reading aloud technique is an activity, a tool for teachers, students and readers when reading. When we read text, people around us can listen to what we are reading. On the other hand, reading aloud allows learners to very well develop their reading skills by speaking or expressing ideas, making reading very interesting, improving listening skills, enriching vocabulary, improving reading ability, and improving listening skills. reading comprehension skills and, not least, an increasing love of reading.

e. The Procedure of Reading Aloud Technique

The Reading Aloud Technique procedure will be applied as follows:

- 1) Choose a text interesting enough to read aloud. Limit yourself to one choose less than five hundred words.
- 2) Present the text to participants, highlighting key points or questions for student engagement lift up.
- 3) Segment text by paragraphs or by any other means. Invite volunteers read the different sections aloud.
- 4) As you read, stop when appropriate to emphasize certain points, ask or answer questions, or give examples. Allow brief discussion if participants express interest in certain sections. Then proceed to read.<sup>35</sup>

Therefore, in accordance with this procedure, the researcher will prepare steps for teaching reading so that it is suitable for application to eighth grade junior high school students. It is the procedure for using reading aloud technique in teaching reading as follows:

- 1) Pre reading activity
  - a) The teacher greets her students.
  - b) The attendance list of students is checked by the teacher.
  - c) Students answer questions related to the material that students will study. For example. Teacher: "Okay students, have you ever heard of a descriptive text before?"

- d) The teacher provides examples of descriptive text after students answer questions.
  - e) The teacher explains the general structure and linguistic characteristics of descriptive text. Text with the title "The elephant".
- 2) Whilst reading activity
- a) The teacher provides descriptive text that is interesting to students
  - b) The teacher gives an example of how to read descriptive text and highlights words that are key words for understanding the reading
  - c) Students are asked several questions related to the reading text
  - d) The teacher appoints students to read the descriptive text individually without stopping
  - e) The teacher again gives an example of how to read the descriptive text that has been given
  - f) Students are asked to read again to improve reading comprehension.
- 3) Post reading activity
- a) Teachers and students discuss about their mistakes and provide further explanations about students answers such as how to find the main idea (topic), expressions/phrases in context, inferences, grammatical characteristics, details, excluding unwritten facts, supporting ideas and vocabulary in context.
  - b) Ask students to answer writing questions related to descriptive text.
  - c) Collect student answer sheets.

However, these activities help students develop not only their knowledge but also their communicative skills and confidence. Based on the statement above, the researcher concludes that the procedure for the reading aloud technique is for students to translate new words from the target language into their mother tongue. then, students give grammar rules and apply them use examples, correcting them with new words. Students will memorize vocabulary.

f. The Advantages and Disadvantages of Reading Aloud Technique

1) Advantages of Reading Aloud Technique

The Reading Aloud Technique has several advantages and also the objective of the technique itself. They are:

- a) It allows learners to develop very well the ability to read by speaking or express ideas.
- b) It helps learners develop pronunciation skills very well.
- c) This makes reading very enjoyable while the teacher uses reinforcement during reading.
- d) Language learning is a type of imitation. When the teacher says something or when reading any text, learners try to imitate that text. Therefore, teachers must have creative ideas to make this activity truly effective.<sup>36</sup>

In other words, the use of reading aloud technique will help students a lot in reading, understanding and living the subject matter. Students will become more develop pronunciation skills very well, this helps students read, speak very well. It is believed that learning language will help student intellectual development.

2) Disadvantages of Reading Aloud Technique

Disadvantages of the Reading Aloud Technique are:

- a) Overcrowded classrooms are a huge problem. Teachers cannot provide enough opportunities for all students.
- b) In the early stages, reading aloud is essential. If fully trained on Reading aloud is not provided at the elementary level, it will be difficult to read aloud in the secondary stage.
- c) Only bright and intelligent students learn to read out loud, because they frequently have opportunities while the average student has almost no opportunities while reading. So, they become passive learners. Reading aloud takes longer so it takes longer. Not all students can read at the same time, making classroom management impossible.<sup>37</sup>

In other words, this technique requires more takes longer. Students cannot read at the same time, making classroom management impossible. Before learning begins, the teacher makes an agreement with the students not to be noisy when a student is reading. If they violate this, the noisy students will be punished by continuing to read to their friend who is reading loudly in front of the class. The teacher chooses students randomly and is given 2 minutes to read so that all students can read. When reading the teacher asks students to stand in their places and read aloud and asks other students to be quiet and show their friends what they are reading so that all students can listen to the students reading.

B. Frame of Thinking

Reading is one of the skills that English learners need to master. Several experts give their opinion on reading the definition. When reading the text, the reader can know and understand what the writer is talking about. Reading is a process of gathering information from text. Understanding text is not easy, we need basic knowledge and logical thinking to understand it. By reading we can get a lot of information, knowledge and joy. When teaching reading, teachers must use appropriate techniques to encourage students to become more interested in the text and understand it.

The researcher believed that the correct technique of conveying learning material was helped students understand the text clearly. In reading skill there are many techniques to develop these skills. One of them is two stay two stray technique. Two Stay Two Stray is kind of technique that gives chance to each student in group to share the result and information with other students in group. It is also an interactive process which can be uses to build knowledge or summarize learning though sharing. Two Stay Two Stray is a technique for teaching reading. It is used in several groups until students can understand through discussion and provide information about our material to other students.

Additionally, using Two Stay Two Stray as a teaching technique can stimulate cooperative learning to help students master language skills, especially reading comprehension. This technique was created a fun learning atmosphere, especially reading. In other words, by implementing this Two Stay Two Stray, teachers can prepare their students to get used to group discussions, in which they will feel comfortable and happy when sharing. your feelings and thoughts.

Two stay two stray technique has advantage and disadvantage, the advantage that giving an opportunity to the students to build their creativity and to communicate with their friends in group. One of the disadvantages of this technique is that takes a long time. Therefore, solving the problem by before doing two stay two stray technique, the teacher explains the mechanism of technique to the students so that after that the teacher invites the students to ask questions if they still do not understand.

Two stay two stray technique was used in an experimental class. The researcher was divided some groups and each group consists of four students. Students work together to solve a problem gives by the teacher. Two students from each group then join other group to present their worksheets and share them with other students. Two students' then return to the main group and explain their results to the other groups. Two stay two stray technique has advantage that

Based on the above statement, the researcher believes that the Two Stay Two Stray technique is effective in teaching reading because this technique can make students more active in class, students gather information from text not only from own knowledge of the text but also that of other students. Students not only read text to get information but also share opinions to get more information. In other words, how to retrieve information from text can be taught in an interesting way when students can practice reading.

C. Hypothesis

Based on theories and assumption above, the researcher formulates on the Hypothesis in this research was be:

- H0: There is no effective of using two stay two stray technique on students' reading comprehension in descriptive text at the first semester of the eighth grade of SMP Muhammadiyah 1 Kotaagung in the academic year of 2023/2024
- Ha: There is effective of using two stay two stray technique on students' reading comprehension in descriptive text at the first semester of the eighth grade of SMP Muhammadiyah 1 Kotaagung in the academic year of 2023/2024

Venice is a city in northern Italy. It has been known as the “Queen of the Adriatic”, “City of Bridges”, and “The City of Light”. The city stretches across 117 small islands in the marshy Venetian Lagoon along the Adriatic Sea in northeast Italy.

Venice is world famous for its canals. It is built on an archipelago of 117 islands formed by about 150 canals in a shallow lagoon. The islands on which the city is built are connected by about 400 bridges. In the old center, the canals serve the function of roads, and every form of transport is on water or on foot. You can ride gondola there. It is the classical Venetian boat which nowadays is mostly used for tourists, or weddings, funerals, or other ceremonies. Now, most Venetians travel by motorized waterbuses which ply regular routes along the major canals and between the city’s islands. The city has many private boats. The only gondolas still in common use by Venetians are the Traghetto, foot passenger ferries crossing the Grand Canal at certain points without bridges.
